FAST FOOT-BALL HERE TO-MORROW

Richmond College and Washington and Lee Are to Battle.

Much to the delight of the students and foot-ball lovers in general, the game with Washington and Lee, which was scheduled for Petersburg, has been changed, and will now be played at Broad-Street Park to-morrow.

This will be one of the most exciting games of the season, for Washington and Lee has one of the fastest teams in the South in her class. The College is rapidly developing the best team she has ever put on the field, and is determined to wipe out the defeat she sustained last season.

Saturday's game with Fredericksburg, though under such adverse conditions, did the College team a great deal of good, and it is no exaggeration to say that her strength is increased fifty per cent. Coach Vall is working the men every evening for several hours, straightening out the kinks and improving the offense and defense, and he now feels sure that they will give a good account of themselves against any team.

Hot Game Next Saturday. "red-hot" game of foot-ball is looked at Broad-Street Park next Saturday, for at Broad-Street Park next Saturday, considered by many enthusiasts as the principal contest on the gridfron in Virginia this season.

Great interest is manifested in the forthcoming game. Hundreds of former and present students from both the University and the Palytechnic Institute and residents of this city, and these students are calculated upon to make things lively during the progress of the game.

vision of flying heeis, a crash, and horse and rider went down in one heap. Women turned their heads away and men drew their breath in gasps.

Ring attendants, judges and every one in the ring ran to the minsied mass of horse and man, and slowly Dashing Dick Donnelly was pulled out from his horse. He was limping and evidently hurt, He was helped to the judges' stand, but on the way he waved his helpers aside and walked alone. Then such a roar of relief and applause as went up has rarely been heard. Doctors were called into the ring, and though Mr. Donnelly was hurt, he was game. His car was cut and Rifle had struck his rider on the arm. The limb swelled and it was evidently very painful. The crowd looked on with breathless interest and the hurdle which had been knocked into a heap was reconstructed, while the groom led Rifle up and down the arena.

Another roar of applause greeted the rider as he got up again. Once more, with the same terrific speed, he went at the jump, plying the lash with vigor. Bille made another grand effort, but again he falled. This time he kept his feet and the crowd drew a sigh of rellef and made itself nolsy in applause.

Another trial. Tension was at the breaking point. Down to the great kurricade came horse and rider, Donnelly urging the great horse with word and lash. A flying leap. He cleared it. Yell after yell broke from every part of the great arena and echoed far towards the city. Dashing Dick Donnelly, in spite of his hurt, has made the record.

He was borne aloft on the shoulders of men in the ring, while Rifle pranced and the crowd went wild with enthusiasm. Feelings were unpent and the roars of applause that had before seemed loud were as mere whispers to the shoul that now went forth on the night air.

With the wildest enthusiasm the show ended. People went to their homes while hundreds went out into the arena and gazed with wonder at the hurdle which Hille, with Dashing Dick Donnelly up, had cleared. Then they went home and dreamed of a hor
